PLAYERS TO USE NEW CENTRAL HIGH HALL

School Board Allows "A Night Off" Performance

CAST SELECTIONS ARE ANNOUNCED

"Public Schools Should Co-operate With University," Says President Van Schaick—High Schools to Benefit

"A Night Off" will be given by The Players in the new Central High School auditorium as the result of a favorable decision of the Board of Education of the Washington public schools at its meeting late Wednesday afternoon.

Acting upon a request presented to them, the Board decided to refer the matter of the use of the auditorium by the George Washington University Players to Superintendent E. L. Thurston with the power to act favorably.

The exact date of the production has not been decided, but Superintendent Thurston will select one that will not conflict with the public school interests. Washington's Birthday may be selected.

Ernest M. Elkin, business manager of the Players, found that it was impossible to obtain a theater in Washington for February 22, and the presentation of "A Night Off" would be impossible but for the action of the Board.

"I believe that the public schools should aid the George Washington University as much as possible by allowing the use of their buildings," said Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., president of the Board of Education. "The project of the Players is one of great educational benefit, similar to the work done by the Drama League, and the Board feels that it should encourage it."

The activities of the high schools will benefit from the performance as they will receive 50 per cent of the money from tickets sold by them, and ten per cent of the net profits.

Cast Selected
The cast of "A Night Off" has been lected.

It is as follows: Angelica Damask, Miss Ada Howell; Nisbe, Prof. Babbit's daughter, Miss Katherine Moran; Susan, Miss Frances Geshickter; Maria, Miss Leonilla Lloyd; Mrs. Babbit, Mrs. Gates; Prof. Justinian Babbit, Charles Kothe; Lord Mulberry, Mr. Higgins; Jack Mulberry, Mr. Stewart; Dr. Damask, Eugene Underwood; Marcus Brutus Snap, S. S. Gluck; Prowl, William Gilligan.

The following have been selected as understudies: Angelica Damask, Misses Nell Stanton and Mary Newcombe; Nisbe, Miss Heitmueller, Miss Edna Dixon; Susan, Misses Lenore Kolar and Leonilla Lloyd; Mrs. Babbit, Miss Heitmueller, Jack Mulberry, Mr. Bourne; Dr. Damask, Mr. Evans; Prof. Babbit, Marcus Brutus Snap and Lord Mulberry, L. E. Pendell.

Selecting Spring Play
The next play to be presented in the spring is now being selected by the committee on direction, consisting of Prof. DeWitt C. Croissant, Director H. Jason Breslau, and President S. S. Gluck, and will probably be announced next week.

The cast for this play will be selected at once, according to plans, and while the parts will be open to all, regardless of whether they have a part in "A Night Off" or not, the two casts will be rehearsing at the same time.

They play will probably have a large female cast, and will be a serious nature. "Merely Mary Ann," by Israel Zangwill, and "The Duel," by Lavidan, translated by Louis N. Parker, author of "Disraeli," are being considered.

TRUSTEES MEET WEDNESDAY
A stated meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held next Wednesday. President Stockton will present his annual report which is now off the press.

All Seniors, In Gowns, To Attend Midyear Sermon

All members of the senior classes of all departments of the University, both the June and February classes, will attend the mid-year baccalaureate sermon to be preached on Sunday, Feb. 18, in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, at 4 o'clock by Rev. Clarence Barbour, president of the Rochester Theological Seminary. Caps and gowns will be worn by all seniors, as well as by professors and officials of the University present.

The senior marshals, to be chosen soon, will lead the procession at both the June and February sermons, and will officiate at the Winter Convocation to be held in the A. & S. Assembly Hall on Washington's Birthday at 11 o'clock. President Stockton has made this announcement.

SENIOR MARSHALS TO BE ELECTED

Elective System Adopted—Refuse Engineering Additional Member. Medical Election Soon

The Faculty Committee on Student Activities and the Student Council will hold a joint meeting Tuesday night in the Law School to discuss different phases of the control of student activities of the University.

Athletics, the powers of the various bodies in control of activities, and the relations of the faculty and the student body will be discussed. It will be a "get-together" meeting.

The first ballots under the new elective system adopted finally by the Council at its meeting at the Law School Tuesday night will be printed in the Hatchet probably next week.

Elective System Clause
The following is the wording of the sections in the Council by-laws that provides for the elective system of selecting Council members:

The remaining members shall be nominated by a committee consisting of the Council members from the Senior Class at the second Council meeting in April, in the proportion of not more than two candidates for each vacancy.

In the first April issue of the official University paper there shall be published a notice requesting that petitions and suggestions be presented to the above committee.

The candidates nominated by the committee must be approved by the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities and subsequent to such approval, their names shall be officially published in the University paper and one week later, shall

GIRLS PLAY EASTMAN TODAY

Basketball Game in Epiphany Gym. Eastern High Alumni Next

The only girl's basketball game scheduled for this week is that with Eastman School for Girls, a practice game to be played at Epiphany Gymnasium at 3 o'clock today.

The game with the Eastern High Alumni of Baltimore has been postponed from January 12 to February 24. The team defeated the Eastern High Alumni last year, thus breaking that team's record of five years without a defeat.

The game scheduled with Normal has been cancelled.

NON-GREEKS AND GIRLS MAKE HIGHEST GRADES

Scholastic Averages of A. & S. Students Compiled by Dean Hodgkins—Fraternity Standings Given

Women have better grades than men, and non-fraternity students make better marks than fraternity members, is the information contained in the statistics in the 1915-16 report of Dean Howard L. Hodgkins of the Department of Arts and Sciences recently sent to President Stockton.

The report shows that the general scholastic average of the 1080 students in the three undergraduate colleges of the Department of Arts and Sciences was 86.4, while that of the women was 88.9 and that of the men was 84.0. Columbian College averages were: Men, 85.0; women, 88.1; general, 86.0. The general average in the College of Engineering was 81.9, and in Teachers College was 90.3.

Non-Fraternity Students Highest
Comparative marks of fraternity and non-fraternity men and women showed:

JOHNS HOPKINS AGAIN ON FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Six Contests Out of Ten Game Program Selected—All So Far Away From Home

With the football season well out of the way, Graduate Manager Hodgkins is busily engaged in arranging next year's schedule. It is planned to have a longer season than last year and to play about ten games in all.

The big game of the year will be the Thanksgiving day contest with Georgetown on the Hilltop. Games with several of last year's opponents have already been booked and Manager Hodgkins intends to fill out the balance of the schedule as soon as possible.

The schedule to date is:
Sept. 29—Gettysburg at Gettysburg.
Oct. 6—West Virginia at Morgantown.
Oct. 13—Johns Hopkins at Baltimore.
Nov. 24—Gallaudet at Kendall Green.
Nov. 29—Georgetown at Georgetown.

ADDITIONS TO SUMMER FACULTY

Professor De Witt C. Croissant and Assistant Professor Charles E. Hill, of the faculty, will give courses in the University summer school during the coming summer. Dean Wilbur C. Ruediger, director, has announced.

Professor Hill will offer courses in American History and International Law. Professor Croissant will give several of his English courses.

Special Hatchet Issue For High School Seniors

The Hatchet will issue a special high school edition early in April that will be distributed to the senior classes, and possibly the other students, of the five Washington high schools, and sent to many other preparatory schools throughout the country.

Permission has been obtained from the Board of Education to distribute the Hatchets thru the principals of the high schools, and the University will co-operate in financing the edition.

This edition will be sent to regular subscribers and will be one of the thirty for the year.

MAY HOLD OUTDOOR S. A. A. U. MEET HERE

New Central High Stadium Would Be Used

SCHOOL BOARD ACTS FAVORABLY

G. W. U. Management Take First Steps Toward Meet Acting Thru Hatchet—G. U., C. U., Md. State to Help

BULLETIN (Thursday noon)

Baltimore has put in a strong bid for the S. A. A. U. meet and it is practically decided to hold it at Johns Hopkins, Manager James learned today. This makes it highly improbable that Washington will get the meet.

Principal Wilson of Central and "Bill" Foley, physical director, said today that they think that the meet could have been held at the Central stadium.

There is a possibility that the South Atlantic Intercollegiate Outdoor Championship meet will be held in Washington on May 11 and 12 at the stadium of the new Central High School.

The Board of Education of the Washington Public School, upon the request of the George Washington University track authorities, acting thru the Hatchet, gave permission to Superintendent E. L. Thurston of the public schools to sanction the holding of the meet if it was found possible, without conflict with public school dates, to do so.

This meet, if it is held, will be one of the biggest athletic events ever held in Washington, and be a benefit to the city.

Athletic teams from all other colleges in the South Atlantic Amateur Athletic Union, including Virginia, Johns Hopkins, and West Virginia, will enter, and compete in the two days of events.

Altho the S. A. A. U. authorities have not yet promised to sanction a Washington meet, should the Central High School stadium become available, there is little doubt that they will do so. Four universities in the S. A. A. U. are located in or near Washington. These are George Washington, Georgetown, Maryland State, and Catholic University. Baltimore and Charlottesville are the only other places available, and neither is central.

Manager William S. James of the track team will get in touch with representatives of the other colleges, and form a committee to bring the meet to Washington.

Basketball Team Keeps Up Smashing Work

PLAY TEMPLE MONDAY IN PHILLY

Navy Game Rough and Erratic. Sporting Writers Praise Team. May Play Susquehanna Tuesday

The George Washington University basketball team has beaten Gallaudet and lost to Navy. Both games were spectacular and smashing in speed. The team, under the direction of Coach Colliflower, has been doing the best work in years.

The tossers leave Monday for Philadelphia to play Temple University, and will travel to Selingsgrove, Pa., to play Susquehanna Military Institute on Tuesday, if arrangements can be made.

Here are the stories of both the Navy and Gallaudet games:

MIDDIES WIN, 34 TO 17

Plenty of Roughness, Speed and Blood in Annapolis Contest

By Staff Correspondent
ANNAPOLIS, Wednesday, January 3.—The Navy team sank the George Washington basketball team in a 34 to 17 victory.

It was one of the roughest, bloodiest and fastest games ever played here. The final score is little indication of the contest.

In the first ten minutes, G. W. made five points to Navy's two. Then Navy took a spurt and the half ended 13 to 5.

The second half was six minutes old when the score jumped to 13 to 10. Navy put in six substitutes and by lucky shots from the middle of the floor, ran up the score. G. W. made only two substitutions.

The contest was bloody. Once four men out of the ten were bleeding at one time. Several times men were knocked unconscious. Byers, Navy left guard, was slashed across the cheek, and the wound had to be sewed up.

Capt. Groesbeck of the Hatchettes for the third time in three games was put out of the game for four personal fouls.

Almon for G. W. caged 11 foul tosses out of 14 chances. Capt. Calhoun starred for Navy.

Giacomo, Almon, Ellison, Groesbeck, Hillis, Patterson and Ritzhaupt were in the game for George Washington.

It was an all-Colliflower game. George Colliflower coached G. W., Jim Colliflower coached Navy, and C. E. Colliflower, of Georgetown, umpired.

GALLAUDET CONQUERED, 30 TO 21

Team Does Brilliant Work—Giacomo Is Individual Star

Before a crowd, which packed the Y. M. C. A. gym, the George Washington University basketball team defeated Gallaudet College by 30 to 21, on Saturday evening, December 23. College enthusiasm, tempered with holiday spirit, ran wild in approval of the sterling playing of the contestants. The predictions, of a close game, were realized, and the victor won by proving its mastery to all.

The Hatchettes are highly developed in remarkable accurate passing, close guarding and a tendency to carry the ball beneath the basket before shooting. Speed is characteristic of the team as displayed in the first half of the game when 14 points were scored, while the opponents were limited to 7. That Gallaudet showed great improvement, since its contest with Catholic University, was freely admitted thus adding to G. W.'s glory.

Giacomo Individual Star
Although every player on the floor gave his best efforts in every minute of play, Giacomo of George Washington

Student Control

An era of control of student activities by students seems to have begun. Up until this year the faculty have "run things." And they were right in doing so under former conditions.

Now the students seem to have become strong enough to manage if they have proper check and supervision. The Council is a clearing house of student opinion and is open to suggestions at all times.

The elective system outlined in this issue has all promises of proving a success, and the selections by the taxpayer electorate should compel interest in the Council. It will receive its first trial the latter part of this month.

There is still a lack of students to do things. There are many jobs that are to be filled in student activities. The Hatchet with its activities employment bureau believes it can help the activities to secure helpers.

The joint meeting of the Student Council and the Faculty Committee on Student Activities should go far into clearing up some confusion as to the powers and rights of the Council and other organizations that now control activities.

High School Interest

The action of the Board of Education in allowing the Players to use the new Central High School auditorium, and giving permission to the Hatchet to distribute a special edition to high school students, should be appreciated by all connected with the University. It promises a closer and more beneficial connection between the University and the Washington public school system.

Growing out of suggestions made in the Student Council, the Hatchet announces a step in the closer co-operation between the Washington public schools and the University.

A special edition of the Hatchet later in the year, will explain the courses, activities and the college life of the University to those students just leaving High School. It will emphasize the fact that the high school graduate who has to work can get his college education at late afternoon classes. It will do all it can to build up the day school. It will tell of the work of Washington high school graduates now at the University.

This University is the city college of Washington and should be looked upon as such by the people of Washington.

It is to be hoped that other methods such as social affairs, will be used to bring the University and the high schools closer.

We are proud of that basketball team. It has been playing a good, clean game, and has been doing its best, which is, indeed, very good. We are backing it, and watching it.

Milady's Handbag

By WILLIAM GILLIGAN

You ask me what do I contain;
Indeed, a foolish query!
If you can't guess I must confess
Your brainlet's mighty bleary.

Now just suppose that you were—well,
A prepossessing maiden,
And you could brag of such a bag,
With what would it be laden?

A handkerchief, I have no doubt,
Within its folds you'd carry,
To smother miles or maiden wiles,
Or vagrant tear to parry.

And smugly in a corner hid,
As perquisite of beauty,
A pretty lass would have a glass—
'Twould be her solemn duty.

As cunning partner to the glass—
Now this is confidential—
Would be a puff with just enough
Of powder, unessential.

And other things you'd also have,
I dare not try recite 'em,
For after these—varieties
Become AD INFINITUM.

Percy At Council Meeting

Dear Joe:

I attended the meeting of the student congress the other night and it was simply grand. The men draped themselves about the table as if they were in a waiting room. Speaker Norris whose father, by the way, manufactures Norris chairs, did all the speaking. After the speech by the Speaker the usual task of revising the constitution was taken up. You see they want to keep the thing up to date so they overhaul it at each meeting. By this time the lady members come in and the men take their feet from the table and stand with bowed heads. I waited for someone to offer prayer, but they kept silent. When the women sat down they started to discuss something entirely foreign from the subject; then they would get restless and move and the others would second their moves. By that time, they got tired out and remained silent. Then, Joe, suddenly a very strong aroma pervaded the chamber. Councilman Groesbeck entered. No one argued with Groesbeck, for when they did he puffed on his charcoal burner and the fumes dazed the congregation. Hence, all his motions were carried—by whom, I do not know. Groesbeck took an active part in discussing the constitution. It is believed by many that his constitution will be adopted, for it is claimed that a person who can smoke such a strong pipe must have an iron-clad constitution. In order not to spoil their record, the councilmen decided to adjourn before they accomplished anything. Just before this motion was made, however, another one was laid on the table. The funny part of it is, Joe, I did not see anyone lay it on the table. Outside of a few cigarette stumps the table was bare. PERCY.

BASKETBALL SHOWS UP TRACK

Track Men Seeking Revenge for Defeat on New Year's Day

The basketball team won further honors on New Year's Day, defeating the track team about 1917 to 4. The two lone field goals made by the track men were the features of the fray, and both sides are still wondering how they happened.

The track men admit that they have no especial eye for the iron ring. They have challenged basketball to a mile relay on some future date. Ah, let's change the subject!

TO TALK ON PAVING

Engineers to Meet Monday at Bureau of Standards

All arrangements have been completed for Prof. John S. Crandell to talk before the Engineering Society Monday, January 8, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Bureau of Standards, South Lecture Hall. His talk on "The Construction and Maintenance of Roads with Refined Tars" will be illustrated with both stereopticon slides and motion picture. A light lunch will be served after the talk. The lunch will be free and all are invited, not only engineers, but any student who is interested.

DO MATH. PROBLEMS, GET CANDY

Dean Distributes Xmas Gifts by Efficiency System

Do a Math. problem and get a piece of candy, was the offer Dean Hodgkins made to one of his classes just before Christmas.

The girls of the class gave him a box of the best chocolates, and also presented the class with a similar Christmas gift.

"To the boards," was the order. "Do a problem and I shall give you a piece of candy."

An unusually large number of examples were done. The Dean did several himself.

Want A Job In Activities? Hatchet Will Help You

The Hatchet has established a student activities employment information agency. There are student activities now in need of help and there are doubtless students willing to "do things" if they know what to do.

If students managing activities notify The Hatchet of their needs, and the students who want to do things and do not know where to begin will send in their names to the Hatchet, the Hatchet will endeavor to point out the "job" to the jobless.

The Hatchet is at present in need of editorial and business assistants, preferably men who look forward to becoming editors and business managers of the Hatchet. There will be staff vacancies next year to be filled, and the positions of editor and business manager, in addition to giving valuable training, are financially worth while. The editors are especially anxious to get in touch with men willing to work, who they can "break in" on editorial work.

Advertising solicitors for basketball and dramatic associations are also wanted.

Remaining 18 Hatchets For 60 Cents Is Offer

The Hatchet announces a new subscription rate of 60 cents for the remaining 18 issues. The yearly subscription for all thirty issues is a dollar, but in order to make it easy for non-subscribers to begin the new year right, the special rate has been put into effect.

The Hatchet serves as a supplementary weekly letter to the home folks with many students, and others send it to friends. It would make a good delayed Christmas gift.

Subscriptions should be sent to the University Hatchet, 2023 G street.

NON-GREEKS AND GIRLS MAKES HIGHEST GRADES

that if the ratings of the members in the professional schools were included, the averages might be changed.

Dean Hodgkins also says:
"It is very clear that non-fraternity students rank higher in scholarship than the fraternity students."

Should Have Higher Grades

"While I believe that membership in a fraternity gives a person certain advantages of college life that are lacking in considerable measure at this University because we have no dormitory life, yet the scholarship average seems to be lowered to a greater extent than should be the case. It may be there is too great a tendency for the fraternities to lay stress on social qualities, on personal popularity, and on activity in student affairs, in choosing members. It may be that fraternity duties and pleasures make too great a call on the student's energy and time. To the extent that these are influential in retarding or lowering scholarship, they are evils to be overcome."

"I know that the thinking men who are the leaders in the fraternities, both among the national officers and among the local officers, are giving large consideration to the improvement of scholarship. I have had correspondence with the local officers and alumni advisers of some of our fraternities. A number of the fraternities have committees on scholarship, and we are furnishing these committees information about the scholastic work of the members. It is believed that this will result in raising the scholarship average in a number of cases."

Contribute To Law Fund, Letter Asks Law Students

A letter has been sent to all students in the Law School asking that they contribute as much as possible to the new Law School Building fund.

Committees from each of the classes, 1911 to 1917 inclusive, are canvassing alumni in and out of town for subscriptions. Secretary William Van Vleck of the Columbian-George Washington Law School Association reports. It is hoped that $40,000 will be raised by January 15 when a second general appeal will be sent out.

ton starred by scoring five baskets from the field and in his general floor work. "Shorty" Almon, Giacomo's running mate, was a marked man before the contest and he wore a pair of arms, where his neck-tie should be, thruout the contest. Close guarding of "Shorty" limited him to two field goals, but failed to upset his disposition, as he added eight points via the foul route.

Willman, Gallaudet's center, considered a star in this position, featured with three field goals. Ellison, who played against him, was be-moaned by the newspaper scribes as a weakling. Ellison scored the same number of goals as his heralded opponent, thereby proving the "grand-old-dope" as accurate as the weather bureau.

Play Rough But Brilliant

The play was brilliant, but rough with great offensives from all sides. The sweeper reported no stray ears or arms after the contest, although the referee's whistle was as busy as a fire-engine on the corner yelping for more coal. Capt. Groesbeck of G. W. and A. Wenger of Gallaudet's "Siamese Twins," got all tangled in a sailor's knot during the farewell period. Both were banished and given a handicap start on the other players to think up their New Year's resolutions. Dohrman of the visitors also forgot his manners and was notified that his soap and towel were waiting without.

If you can't understand this summary, we'll order the game played over, as we can't explain it ourselves.

Sporting Writers' Comments On Gallaudet Game

Sporting Writers on Washington daily newspapers praised the basketball team highly for its work in the Gallaudet game.

"Play Better as a Team in Winning by 30 to 21," said the Washington Post headline.

"The Hatchettes played a better floor game and displayed superior teamwork. They jumped into the lead within less than a minute after the contest started," wrote H. C. Byrd in the Sunday Star.

"Coach George Colliflower has just about made himself solid with G. W. U. followers," was the Times comment on the game.

"Giacomo was easily the star basket shooter," said the Herald.

SWEET TIME IN CHEM. COURSE

New Course Is Very Popular—All Have Taste for It

There is a new course in chemistry. You won't find it in the catalog. You will have to be one chosen few to take it, or rather taste it. When the time approaches mid-night, and the freshman chemical students have all hurried home to bed, a little group of Chem. 21 students gather in the chemical laboratory room, where is hid the still (for distilled water) and begin work.

She, with the brown bag, pours out some white crystalline chemical, a Mecca burner is lighted, and the stuff begins to boil in a porcelain crucible. The dozen seekers-after-knowledge (and candy) butter some chemical apparatus, and the amber liquid is poured out and allowed to solidify. Everybody wants to scrape the pan.

It is a very popular course, but the instructor would not allow her (or was it his) name to be used. Lab. fees are 5c. a class meeting, and the class meets semi-occasionally.

be submitted to the tax signers of their department for election.

Names of candidates for senior marshal and the two assistant marshals will be selected at the next meeting of the Council from the names presented by the different senior classes, and will probably be printed on the same ballot with the Medical School councilmen and candidates, and voted by seniors of all departments. President Stockton has given his approval to this plan.

TRACK MEN WORKING HARD

Train Daily During The Holidays—
New Men Report
By HOWARD SCOTT

The track team is doing hard work getting ready for the Johns Hopkins meet early in February. They trained daily thru the holiday week.

New additions to the squad are Thomas, a dash and weight man, and Larson, who is out for the dashes. The squad is now well supplied with men for the dashes, but more distance men are needed. It is also weak in field events and hence is not well balanced enough to engage in a dual meet for which tempting offers have been received. About a dozen men who have shown up well in practice will be carried on the squad during the indoor season. Great accomplishments cannot be expected from such a small number practically all of whom are novices, but they are sure to be heard from.

There are only four fraternities in school with men on the squad. These four are represented by nine men.

In the United States, Orthodox Judaism has not succeeded in establishing itself on as firm a basis as it exists in foreign countries. Rabbi Schaffer will discuss chiefly the nature of traditional Judaism, the problems confronting it in the United States, and will contrast it with Reform Judaism.

NURSES

The Hatchet news service has been extended to include the Nurses' Training School, connected with the University Hospital. Miss Margaret McLaren has been appointed editor. The girls in the training school who were not so fortunate as to be able to reach their homes, spent a very pleasant Christmas in the Hospital.

On going over for breakfast Christmas morning the girls enjoyed a surprise. The dining room was decorated with the season's offerings, and a tree in one corner. A stocking was hung on the back of each chair, and a miniature "Santa" greeted us from our places.

Christmas eve the nurses sang carols on the wards, and cheered the patients who spent Christmas with them.

The Christmas dance was given at the Cairo December 29.

Capt. B. Groesbeck, '17, is playing his usual good game at guard for the G. W. U. basketball team. Ritzhaupt, '17, is also a member of the squad.

VETERINARY COLLEGE

Dr. Nicols, '13, gave a talk to the seniors and juniors last Wednesday evening on the manufacture of anti-hog-cholera serum, and of his experiences in the transportation of horses and mules for the British and French governments. He has made several trips in the interests of each of the governments, sailing from New Orleans and Norfolk. While in France he visited Bordeaux and St. Nazaire. Altho not permitted to visit the front, he heard the boom of the "big guns" from the not far distant battle front.
